THE BLIND.

We acknowledge the receipt of the thirty-fifth annual report of the Managers of the "Pennsylvania Institute for the Instruction of the Blind." There are now in the school one hundred and eighty three blind persons. Thirty-two of these support themselves wholly or in part, as assistant teachers, or in the work department, five are full paying pupils, eleven in part, and eight are day scholars. By a series of carefully arranged figures the Principal, WILLIAM CHAPIN, Esq., shows that there are now 13,259 white blind, and 15,635 total blind persons in the United States. Of this number there are 1,590 in Pennsylvania, 278 in New Jersey, and 56 in Delaware, the three States contributing to the support of the Institution. Great difficulty is experienced in providing employment for the blind after they have been instructed and graduated from the College. To obviate this, the report recommends the establishment by philanthropists of a manufactory where the blind may be employed at fair wages. Such an establishment could not be made self-supporting but it would contribute largely towards ameliorating the condition of those doomed in this world to perpetual darkness. The system of education adopted by the School embraces not only mental culture but practical instruction in mechanics and general handiwork. The factory attached to the institution, where brushes, brooms, whisks, mats, carpets, caned chairs, beadwork, knitting, sewing and general fancy work are made by the pupils and graduated workmen, is very successfully managed, and during the past year stock to the amount of $16,865 41 was made up. There are seven blind persons among the pupils from Allegheny county. The report shows a very gratifying state of affairs and reflects great credit on those immediately connected with the management of this noble institution, of which Pennsylvania should feel justly proud.

COL. PETER FORCE, whose death we have already announced as having occurred in Washington, last week, was born some seventy-eight years ago in New Jersey. When a boy he went to Bloomingdale, which was at that time one of the suburbs of New York city, where he engaged himself as an apprentice to the printing business. He went to Washington in 1815, and subsequently had charge of the public printing, and during the administration of the Presidency of John Q. Adams he published there the National Journal, which was the organ of the Administration. From 1836 to 1840 he was Mayor of Washington, and was afterwards president of the National Institute for the Promotion of Science. In 1833 he made a contract with the United States Government for the preparation and publication of a documentory history of the American Colonies, of which nine folio volumes have since appeared, under the title of "American Archives." This work occupied Mr. FORCE for thirty years, and in its prosecution he gathered a collection of books, manuscripts, maps and papers relating to American history, which, in completeness and value, is unequalled by any collection in the world on the same subject. Mr. FORCE also published four volumes of historical tracts, relating chiefly to the origin and settlement of the American Colonies. This collection was purchased last year for the Congressional Library at Washington, and is deemed invaluable by those interested in the history of our country.

UNDER Commodore VANDERBILT's intelligent and vigorous management the stock of the New York Central Railroad Company has gone above 132, and will go higher. It is now announced that the New York Central has made a mutually advantageous arrangement with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company touching the transportation of passengers and freight, which will soon be made public.

It is a matter of general concernment that money invested in railroads should return handsome remunerations to the owners thereof; otherwise capitalists will be restrained from giving aid to other enterprises of like character. Business men are apt to overlook the right of those who build railroads to reasonable compensation. In their anxiety to be served well and cheaply they are prone to think capitalists have no right to be served at all—that they ought to build and run railroads on the principle of disinterested benevolence. It is wise to conclude that business is business, and that they who construct railroads have the same claim to profits as other classes of individuals.

THE Pottsville Journal gives the amount of anthracite coal sent from Pennsylvania to tide-water during the year 1867, at 12,650,571 tons, being an increase of 271,081 tons over the year 1866. Of semi-anthracite and bituminous reaching tide-water there were last year 2,255,738 tons, being a decrease of 82,588 tons from the preceding year. This gives an aggregate of 14,906,309 tons, and an increase of 188,603 tons.

THE London journals are deeply aggrieved that the Congress of the United States should have any sympathy with the Fenians. Those same journals did not hesitate during our recent troubles to sympathize with and aid the confederates, and in that view of the case, unless they credit Americans with a decided weakness for repaying evil with good, their present fretting and scolding seems highly impertinent.

THE English Government is heartily ashamed of having caused the arrest of the notorious Train, and is now endeavoring to fasten the blunder at the doors of the authorities of Cork. George Francis will not relish the fact that he was arrested through a mistake, and that he was not deemed large enough game to alarm the British lion to such an extent as to cause his capture.

—The Boston Post makes an assertion. It says that more than thirteen negro soldiers deserted to one that was killed in battle. If the Post is able to prove this, it should at once offer its proof, for so grave a statement is likely to make prejudiced persons think that the paper making it is actuated so far by mean petty partisan spite, as to forget even truth in its endeavors to make a telling point.

—In Atlanta, Ga., real estate which sold for $40,000 in gold before the war was sold recently for $7,000 in greenbacks. Any one who can afford to wait can make a fortune by investing in Southern real estate now a days.

—Gail Hamilton has at last said a sensible thing (by mistake we suppose). She thinks it would be better to restrict the suffrage a little among men than to extend it to women.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE FENIAN EXCITEMENT CONTINUES.

LONDON, January 25.—The excitement occasioned by Fenian movements still continues. The authorities are exceedingly wakeful and arrests are made every day.

A man named Michael Gaugh was captured last evening while in the act of posting a seditious handbill on the Mansion House.

Information having reached the Government that Thomas Simon, Sheriff of the Island of Alderny, was identified with the Fenian organization, he was yesterday promptly apprehended and sent to prison to await trial.

Considerable feeling has been created by the recent resolutions of the United States House of Representatives, declaring the sympathy of the nation with the Fenians. The journals of London have editorials on this subject and severely criticise this expression of unfriendly feeling towards England.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR TRAIN'S ARREST.

It is officially denied in the most positive manner that any orders or dispatches authorizing the arrest of Train were sent from the Home Office at London. The responsibility of that action is thrown entirely upon the local authorities of Cork.

THE ALABAMA CONTROVERSY CLOSED.

The London Observer to-day asserts that by the last dispatches exchanged between Lord Stanley and Secretary Seward, in the matter of the Alabama claims, the correspondence is finally closed.

MINISTERIAL RIOTS.

LONDON, January 25.—Dispatches have been received here giving accounts of quite serious anti-ministerial riots in Prague. The latest telegrams, however, announce the suppression of the disorder without bloodshed.

STEAMSHIP SUSPENSION.

It is announced this evening that neither the North German Lloyd nor Hamburg American Companies will despatch a steamer to New York next week. The reason is not stated.

A SILLY RUMOR.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—A very silly rumor is current in different parts of the Continent, and has even been extensively printed, to the effect that the Prussian Government has secured the use of the United States navy in case of war.

FRANCE.

THE NEW ARMY BILL.

PARIS, January 25.—The Imperial government has issued an official note, addressed to the Prefects of the several departments of France, announcing the new army law and arguing that instead of being a war measure it is a pledge of continued peace.

NEWSPAPERS FINED.

Ten of the public newspapers of this city have been fined a thousand francs each for printing illegal reports of the proceedings of the Corps Legislatif.

A Paris special says: The ten newspaper editors charged with a violation of the constitution in publishing reports of the Legislative body not furnished by the official stenographer, were not only fined a thousand francs each, but condemned to six months' imprisonment and ordered to bear the costs of legal proceedings.

RUSSIA.

THE PRESS ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The St. Petersburg journals of Saturday all published editorials on the political situation of Europe and the affairs of the East. They unanimously advocate the Borsen Zeitung's appeals to the Russian government to take the immediate initiative in disarmament, an example which will almost certainly be adopted by her neighbors.

ABYSSINIA.

NO ADVANCE OF BRITISH FORCES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Herald's cable contains advices from Senafe, Abyssinia, to January 13th. Gen. Napier had not yet ordered an advance from there. The English captives are reported in good health. It is now doubted if the friendly professions of Tigere, Chief of Gabaysezbee, will be fulfilled, or if he will join the English forces.

NEWS OF THE BRITISH CAPTIVES.

LONDON, January 26.—Latest advices from Annesly Bay and Senafe show the British forces have as yet made no advance beyond the latter point. Intelligence of the condition of the British captives has been received in camp at Senafe. They were at Magdala alive, well and carefully guarded to prevent the possibility of escape. It was feared by many they would be massacred as soon as King Theodore heard of the approach of the expeditionary force, but no threatening demonstration against their lives had been made, and their treatment as prisoners remains unchanged.

SPAIN.

ANOTHER INSURRECTION PLANNED.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—Information has been received by the government that another insurrection has been planned by the Carlists in Catalina and Aragon. Active measures have been taken to thwart the movement.

DENMARK.

THE TREATY WITH THE UNITED STATES CONCERNING THE WEST INDIA ISLANDS.

COPENHAGEN, January 26.—The following progress has been made in Rigsdag on the question of the ratification of the treaty for the sale of the West India Islands to the United States. In the Lower House the Special Committee appointed to consider the provisions of the treaty and examine the details of negotiations made a favorable report. This was debated during the latter part of the week in secret session. On Saturday the doors were thrown open. After a speech from the President, closing the debate, a vote was taken and the treaty of transfer ratified without a dissenting voice. The treaty now goes to the Upper House for concurrent and final action.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The Senate Not in Session.

General Debate in the House.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, January 25, 1868.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. PAINE in the chair, for general debate.

Mr. SITGRAVES discussed the state of the Union from a Christian point of view, attributing the rebellion and its fruits to a cursed spirit of radicalism.

Mr. PRICE, referring to an allusion by Mr. Sitgraves to the parable of the Prodigal Son, asked him whether he understood the rebels to occupy an analogous position to the Prodigal Son.

Mr. SITGRAVES replied that the great mass of them did.

Mr. PRICE remarked that that was all he wanted to know. Subsequently, at the close of Mr. Sitgraves' speech, Mr. PRICE referred to the same subject and gave his Republican friends a warning that if it could be shown the rebels occupied the same position as the Prodigal Son in the Scriptures, he would bid his political friends farewell and ask admission into that party which could prove its doctrines from the Scriptures. He admitted that the parallel ran down to the Prodigal Son going to the field to herd swine, but he said it ceased at that point, for if the rebels had been in that position they would have stolen, not only the feed intended for the swine, but the whole herd of swine also. Mr. PRICE went on to show the difference between the two cases, and was engaged in doing so when the ten minutes allowed him expired. He wanted a few minutes more to finish his illustration, but Mr. ELDRIDGE objected, unless some member on the Democratic side should have a chance of replying, so as to vindicate history and the Scriptures. (Laughter.)

Mr. MARSHALL spoke on the question of finances. He thought it would be well to postpone the discussion of the question as to the money in which the principal of the national debt should be paid, and to give all their energies to a wise and earnest effort to make the currency equal in value to gold before specie payment could be resumed at home. He favored the conversion as soon as possible of the six per cent. bonds into four per cent., and the fixing of five per cent. as the uniform rate of bank interest.

Mr. WILLIAMS, of Indiana, argued that the Democratic party was responsible for the rebellion and its consequences, and claiming that the Government must remain in the hands of loyal men. In the course of his remarks he spoke of men returning to the Democratic party as the dog to his vomit.

Mr. MUNGEN asked the privilege of Mr. Williams to make a remark on that point.

Mr. WILLIAMS declined to yield.

Mr. MUNGEN then rose to a question of order. The gentleman, he said, was looking in his direction when he made that remark, and desired to ask whether he meant to say that when he (Mr. Mungen) voted the Democratic ticket that he was a dog, and whether that inference was to be drawn.

The Chairman overruled the point of order, and Mr. WILLIAMS continued his speech. He said that when one army of three hundred thousand Democrats had joined the Order of the Golden Circle, another army of them had shouldered their knapsacks and marched to Canada to seek protection under the crinoline of Queen Victoria.

The Chairman, referring to the point of order made by Mr. Mungen during the remarks of Mr. Williams, said he had understood the point of order to be that as the gentleman from Indiana had been turning to the other side of the House, the gentleman from Ohio was therefore entitled to interrupt him. The Chair had been since informed, however, that the point of order actually made was that the gentleman from Indiana had used unparliamentary language in speaking of the gentlemen on the other side of the House as dogs. If the Chair had understood the point of order, it certainly would have been sustained.

Mr. WILSON, of Ohio, spoke on the question of finances and the national debt. He declared himself in favor of paying the principal of the bonds in lawful money, except where they were specified to be paid in gold. He proposed to issue a hundred million of dollars in United States notes, to sell at the market price all the surplus gold in the Treasury, and add to this fund, from time to time, any surplus that could be spared from the Treasury until it would amount to one hundred millions of dollars. The two hundred millions of dollars thus provided should be applied to the redemption of an equal amount of Five-twenties now at the option of the Government, the gold interest on which would amount semi-annually to six millions in gold. He showed that such a sinking fund would amount at the end of five years to $464,000,000, at the end of ten years to $855,000,000, at the end of nineteen years to $2,092,000,000, being a sum sufficient within a fraction to pay the interest bearing debt.

Mr. HAWKINS addressed the Committee on the subject of individual rights and on the duty of the Government to its citizens, particularly in reference to the claims of citizens of Tennessee against the Government arising out of the war.

The Committee rose and the House adjourned.

A communication from Colonel Willard, of General Canby's staff, and in charge of the Bureau of Civil Affairs at Charleston, is published, to the effect that crime in the States of South and North Carolina is no greater than the Courts are able to attend to, that life and property are as secure as in the Northern States, and that there are no indications of the truth of the reports that a war of races is possible.

WAR DEPARTMENT—FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

An unusually large number of visitors called at the War Department this morning and had an interview with Mr. Stanton. Very many Senators and Representatives were present.

General R. S. Runkle, who is attached to the Freedmen's Bureau in Kentucky, had a long talk with the Secretary of War in relation to the circular letter of December last contracting the operations of the Bureau in that and other States after next month. A strong effort is being made to have that circular revoked, but no action has yet been taken by the Secretary in the matter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26, 1868.

INDEMNITY FOR CANNIBALISM.

A new treaty with Fejee Island has reached the Department of State. It is a whale's tooth, richly variegated in color with a strongly twisted grass cord at the ends. By it the king mortgages his island to the United States for three years as security for the payment of the remaining installment of indemnity on account of his subjects having eaten some American sailors many years ago. The President is to prevent the rival king bringing war against the legitimate sovereign of the Fejees. The king's instructions are that if the President accepts the tooth the treaty is to be considered established, otherwise it is to be returned.

ROBERT J. WALKER ON ACQUISITION OF TERRITORY BY THE UNITED STATES.

Hon. Robert J. Walker has written a long letter, which will soon be published, giving a history of the annexation of territory to the United States, and in favor of the purchase of the Russian-American Possessions and Danish West India Islands.

CONGRESSIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

The first public meeting of the Congressional Temperance Society this season was held to-night in the Hall of the House of Representatives. There was a crowded audience, both on the floor and in the galleries. Senator Wilson presided. He said the Society was organized one year ago, and he believed it had exercised a good influence all over the land. By the crushing of the rebellion and overthrowing of criminal institutions the country had been made great and free, but there was another evil, hardly less gigantic, to be overcome, and that was intemperance. He then successively introduced Representatives Plants, Horace Greeley, Ex-Governor Ford and others, who made speeches on that and kindred subjects.

FURTHER EXPLANATION.

An error having occurred in a former dispatch, it is proper to state that Representative Pile, of Missouri, in his recent explanation in the House, distinctly disclaimed any personal knowledge of fraud or the charge of fraud by the firm of Fowler, Goodell & Co., of Illinois, in connection with Government contracts.

The Emigration Question Discussed—Seizure of Spirits for Revenue Fraud.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

QUEBEC, January 25.—In the House of Assembly to-day a motion was introduced to take into consideration the lamentable emigration of inhabitants from the Province of Quebec to the United States, and to devise means for the arrest of the same. The mover spoke at great length, and pointed out that the source of the evil was the little encouragement to the settlers in the eastern townships and want of sufficient of industrial and manufacturing resources. Agriculture was not sufficient to meet the wants of the inhabitants, as during eight months of the year that interest was entirely suspended, and families were forced to emigrate to the States in search of employment. He proposed that the question of manufactures receive their attention, and a liberal homestead law, similar to that in operation in the States, be enacted. A number of members took part in the discussion, which was finally adjourned until Monday.

MONTREAL, January 25.—A large quantity of spirits has been seized by the Custom authorities in Spellman's rectifying establishment, in St. Marie street, also at Romaine's distillery, for fraud on the Revenue. It is said Henly, who absconded a few days ago, was in league with Spellman.

Advices From Hayti—Solnave Demands Reinforcements and Issues a Proclamation—Religious Services at Havana—Te Deum in Thanksgiving for the Disappearance of Cholera.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, January 26.—The Herald's Havana specials have Haytian advices to the 8th. Solnave demanded reinforcements and had issued an endearing proclamation to the people. Disaffection reigned at Aux Cayes, where a large body of young aristocracy, who had been enlisted into the advances, suffered terribly in the fighting on the frontiers. Jeffrard, who refuses to return to Hayti, deplores the state of the country and expresses sorrow at the violent death of Montez. The latter's brother is still in close confinement.

Advices from other West India Islands are unimportant.

HAVANA, Jan. 26.—Grand religious ceremonies took place at the Cathedral to-day. A te deum was sung in thanksgiving for the disappearance of the cholera from this Island. From this day forth all vessels leaving this port will be granted clear bills of health.

The sugar market closed heavy and inanimate last night, and prices are without any quotable change.

CALIFORNIA.

The Senatorial Election Fraud.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The Assembly refused to adopt the Senate joint resolution appointing a Committee to investigate the alleged corruption in connection with the Senatorial election, but adopted a substitute providing for an investigation when the charges were supported by affidavit, which will probably end the matter, although a pamphlet has been issued and circulated unmistakeably pointing out the parties concerned.

Habeas Corpus Case to Test the Validity of Reconstruction Acts.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, January 25.—The habeas corpus case before Judge Underwood, to test the constitutionality of the Reconstruction act, was to-day adjourned until Wednesday. The commandant of Libby prison produced the prisoner, and made a return that he was held by order of General Scofield, under the authority of the Reconstruction acts. The prisoner was represented by four prominent lawyers, all members of the Conservative State Central Committee, which body brings the case up with the intention of carrying it to the Supreme Court.

The Convention transacted no business of importance to-day.

ARKANSAS.

The Constitutional Convention.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 25.—The Appeal's Little Rock special of to-day says: The Arkansas Convention per diem question was reconsidered, amended, allowing eight dollars per day and thirty cents mileage each way, and adopted. Mr. Hind's resolutions memorializing Congress to amend the bankrupt law, making it only necessary to fill a schedule, &c., at the clerk's office to get release, was adopted. Mr. Hodges was appointed messenger to confer with the Commanding General relative to drawing money from the State Treasury.

After lengthy speeches the majority report in regard to contested seats for Ashley county was adopted. The resolution declares threats and fraud were used to elect Norman and Moon, and declare Ashley county in a state of lawlessness. Norman and Moon denounced the statements as false. After an excited debate, the Convention adjourned till Monday.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, January 25.—The Convention to-day voted fifty dollars to each member out of the ten thousand dollars received yesterday. The balance was reserved for incidental expenses. Four additional sections of the bill of rights, none of which were of a novel nature, were adopted. The Committee on Finance reported they had had an interview with General Meade, and the General had applied to Gen. Grant for a loan of a sufficient amount of the funds sent by the State of Georgia to pay its indebtedness to the Government on the Western and Atlantic Railway and to defray all the expenses of the Convention, and that General Grant accepts the proposition of the Convention so far as his power extends and will answer definitely to-day. Should this proposition fail he will direct Governor Ruger immediately to ascertain upon what terms the money can be procured from parties in Savannah. A resolution was adopted approving the plan of the Committee for procuring money.

ATLANTA, January 25.—Three candidates for Governor under the new Constitution, if ratified, have been announced.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, January 25.—In the Constitutional Convention to-day the report of the Select Committee, appointed to wait upon General Gillem and request of him a suspension of the collection of poll tax for 1867 on all persons denied representation, was recommitted. The Convention went into an election for treasurer, as provided for by the tax ordinance.

Mr. Parsons, one of the delegates from Adams county, offered a resolution, which was adopted, that no delegate recommending a collector to this Convention for his county shall receive any compensation for his services in the Convention until a sufficient amount has been collected in said county to pay said services, provided that on investigation it be found said collector is an irresponsible person.

The Convention proceeded to appoint collectors for such counties as were prepared to nominate, and of the thirty-two appointed only one is colored.

Hons. W. L. Sharkey, E. M. Yenger, and A. H. Handy, have been appointed to represent the Democratic party of Mississippi in the National Democratic Convention.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 25.—The Convention has been in session two weeks, but as yet have made no report on the Constitution. But little was done to-day. Mr. Congleton, of Cartiel county, proposed an ordinance to the following effect: That the Convention has the right to declare and does hereby declare that all laws passed and acts done by previous Legislatures and Conventions in this State are null and void and shall remain so until the General Assembly, except laws relating to marriage.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, S. C., January 26.—The Reconstruction Convention yesterday adopted two resolutions, requesting General Canby to exempt one hundred acres of land from sale under execution, and to suspend sales of property by Sheriffs for three months. The measures of relief proposed do not favor violation of contracts. The disposition of the Convention is conservative.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, January 25.—In the Convention to-day the members were engaged in discussing disfranchisement, article 98th of the Constitution. No definite action.

Suicide of a Minister.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DELAWARE, OHIO, January 25.—Rev. George W. Brush, of the Central Ohio Conference, committed suicide by hanging himself this afternoon. From the evidence before the Coroner's jury it appears that he had been contemplating the act for several days. After eating his dinner to-day as usual, he went to the barn where his wife found him soon afterwards and cut him down. He had tied the rope into the manger, then over a beam, and made a noose of his handkerchief, then jumped off the manger. He is supposed to have been insane.

Neuralgia.

We have cut from the Alta Californian a receipt for the cure of neuralgia, which the editor of that paper claims to have been effective in several cases of his own knowledge. He says:

Some time ago we published, at the request of a friend, a receipt to cure neuralgia. Half a drachm of sal-ammonia in an ounce of camphor water, to be taken a teaspoonful at a dose, and the dose repeated several times, at intervals of five minutes, if the pain be not relieved at once. Half a dozen different persons have since tried the receipt, and in every case an immediate cure has been effected. In one, the sufferer, a lady, has been effected for more than a week, and her physician was unable to alleviate her sufferings, when a solution of sal-ammonia in camphor water relieved her in a few minutes.

—The Vienna papers publish some details respecting the treasures which King George of Hanover has taken to that city. The plate comprises a valuable service in gold and another in silver. The cabinet of relics is composed of church utensils and of objects brought in 1172 by Duke Henry, the Lion, from the Holy Land, &c. The collection of coins numbers nearly twenty-two thousand. The pictures, library, &c., remain, at least for the present, in Hanover.

—A short time since two precious vases belonging to the Museum of Antiquities of Venice were lost, and two employes who were suspected of having stolen them were arrested and imprisoned. After several weeks the vases were found in a box where they had been packed, and the two innocent prisoners were released.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Allegheny County Finances—Report of Controller Lambert.

The Annual Report of Henry Lambert, Esq., the efficient County Controller, has been prepared, and will be printed in the usual form in a few days. The report embraces a detailed statement of the financial affairs of the county, and shows an increase in expenditures over the preceding year of $17,780. The Grand Opera.

To-night, at the Academy of Music, will open the short but most brilliant season of grand opera ever held in Pittsburgh. We have hitherto referred to the great musical revival which has followed in all the large cities on the advent of this immense combination of operatic talent, which, through the management of those great musical directors, Maretzek and Grover, has been flashed on fashionable circles. In Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities the wildest enthusiasm was created by the powerful renditions of the grand operas by the United German and Italian troupes, numbering more than an hundred of the world's most finished musical artists, and here we anticipate an equally favorable reception to the many representatives of song. The consolidated companies will remain with us but three nights, commencing this evening and concluding on Wednesday night, holding on Wednesday afternoon a grand fashionable matinee. The order of operas is "Faust" to-night, "Il travatore" to-morrow-night—(only appearance of the famous Madame Gazzaniga,) "Lucretia Borgia," at the matinee, and "Fra Diavolo" on Wednesday night. Never again, perhaps, in a life time can such a grand consolidation of talent be effected in America, and before it all the companies that have hitherto held the boards must dwindle into insignificance. Seats may be be secured at C. C. Mellor's well known music store, No. 81 Wood street.

Allegheny Police Appointments

The Police Committee of the Allegheny City Councils met on Tuesday evening, and, in conjunction with Mayor Drum, made the following appointments:

DAY POLICE.

Chief of Police—Wm. Bowden.

Policemen—Joseph Campbell, Thomas Ringen, David Brown, Martin Shaffer and William Nixon.

NIGHT POLICE.

Captain—James Hunter.

Lieutenants—Wm. Sprague, Charles McChesney and August Eckey.

Watchmen—Samuel Long, Henry Herman, Washington Swain, Alexander McGuigin, John Blakely, Nicholas Pail, Daniel Graham, Ambrose Lynch, Hamilton Lowe, Hugh Danver, William J. Edwards, Wm. Kennedy, John Irwin, Charles Orbeck and Nathan Lees.

Chief of Police Bowden occupied a similar position during a portion of the administrations of Mayors Miller and Alexander, and was Captain of the Watch under Mayor Morrison. Hunter, the Captain of the Night Police, was Weighmaster of the Second Ward Scales last year.

Caring for the Poor.

We have before us the fifth annual report of the "Pittsburgh Association for the Relief of the Poor," prepared by Mrs. Levi Wade, Secretary, showing the work of this praiseworthy organization during the past year. The Association expended over two thousand dollars in coal, shoes and groceries for the poor during the winter, besides paying a debt of two hundred and eleven dollars and nineteen cents, of borrowed money, to Wm. M'Creery, Esq., to whom the Association is deeply indebted for aid. In addition to this, the Managers were kindly allowed to distribute coal from the Brewer fund and from Mr. McFadden. Relief was given six hundred and twenty-nine times to those who came within the scope of the labors or restrictions of the Association, while innumerable cases of unworthy persons were temporarily relieved by the managers from their own purses. Of the families relieved by the Association, fifty were those of widows, and twenty-eight colored families.

A Wrong Impression.

The impression seems to have obtained that Sargent and Steiner, the two forgers, were on terms of friendly intimacy with the proprietor and employes of Evans' "Novelty," inasmuch as the draft was ordered sent in care of that establishment. This impression, brought to light last week in this city, is entirely false. Mr. Evans was absent from the city until the day of Sargent's arrest, and never saw either of the suspected parties until that day. It seems that the young men had visited the store frequently, and had bought largely. A day or two before the arrest they came to the store and stating that they had changed their boarding place, requested leave to have letters sent in care of the store. Subsequently they requested that a letter coming there, addressed to John Laughlin, might be sent to No. 25 Sixth street. Mr. Evans, feeling a natural interest in having the rogues captured, lent efficient aid in the case—when the detective made known their character and operations to him.

Professional Beggars.

We have a large number of very worthy poor who are deserving of help, but again there are many abundantly able to provide and care for themselves who impose on the charitable community by seeking alms. In order to get ahead of this class the Cincinnati authorities, in the distribution of coal to the poor, administer the following very stringent oath to the recipient: "Do you solemnly swear that your answer to the question regarding your application for coal shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, for which you shall answer to God? and that you will use it for your own family, only, and that you will not sell, trade, lend nor give it to any other person?" We do not take any stock in this method of ascertaining the worthiness of the applicant for relief, but yet some plan should be adopted to protect the worthy poor as well as the charitable from the imposition practiced by professional beggars.

Fatal Accident

Coroner Clawson held an inquest on Saturday on the body of a man named Fernando Roberts, who met his death in the morning at the coal works of F. C. Negley & Company, near Mansfield. A loaded car had just been started down the inclined railway, and had proceeded only a short distance, when the rope parted. The car thus freed, sped down the incline with frightful velocity, and when it reached the tipple house, jumped the track, and almost entirely demolished the building. Roberts was employed as weighmaster and clerk by the firm, and was attending to his duties in the tipple house at the time. He did not observe the accident which had happened in time to escape, and was struck by the descending car. The body was mutilated in a shocking manner, and death resulted instantly. The deceased was a young man, and was highly esteemed by his employers, as well as his acquaintances. The jury found a verdict of accidental death.

Interesting Meeting.

Another of those very interesting monthly meetings of the Young Mens' Christian Association was held at their rooms Saturday evening last. The opening exercises consisted of singing the 23d Psalm, "The Lord's my shepherd," &c.; prayer by Mr. T. J. Gillespie, and reading the 3d chapter of Ephesians by Oliver McClintock, Esq., after which the meeting was thrown open for business.

From the Directors' report we learn that W. S. Pratt and W. K. Dennings have been elected to fill vacancies in the Board and it has been decided that the fiscal year shall end in October. The work on the Manchester Branch Reading Room has been pushed forward and it is expected that the room will be ready for occupancy about the first of February. Urgent calls have been received from Monongahela City, Indiana and other places for aid in the organization of associations. The visiting committee to Youngstown, Ohio, and New Castle, Pa., report encouraging prospects. The people have taken hold in earnest and before long both places will have flourishing associations in their midst.

Resolutions in regard to the death of Charles Ebbert were read, which have already been published.

Reports from the different prayer meetings state that they are all in a flourishing condition and accomplishing their work. The "Evening Classes" appear to be appreciated and have thus far been well attended. After an intermission of a few minutes for social intercourse, the rest of the time was spent in remarks and suggestions in regard to the work of the Association.

The interest in these meetings is evidently on the increase, as the attendance on Saturday evening was much larger than at the previous meetings. All appeared to enjoy it and went away highly pleased at the manner in which the time had been passed.

Important Case Decided.

It will be recollected that in 1866 the question was raised as to the liability of the city of Pittsburgh to pay $300 bounty to veteran volunteers, under an act of assembly passed in 1866. The matter was was brought up in the shape of a case stated—Cassiday vs. City of Pittsburgh—and judgment given in favor of plaintiff against the city. The case was taken to the Supreme Court, submitted, and a decision expected at the last term of that Court held in the city, but with other cases, involving a like question, it was ordered for re-argument at Philadelphia, Jan. 15th, inst. Jacob F. Slagle, Esq. City Attorney, made the argument on behalf of the city, and J W. Kirker, Esq., contra. On Thursday last the opinion of the Court was delivered by Justice Agnew, reversing the judgment of the Court below, and giving judgment for defendant with costs. The act of assembly is held to be constitutional, but the city of Pittsburgh, not being a military sub-district, not liable under it. The case was considered of great importance, as an adverse decision would have taken from the city treasury the sum of about $150,000

Signs of Life.

The pupils of Stewartstown school have shown signs of life as well as appreciation and respect for Mr. Porter, their principal teacher, by a presentation, on the part of the boys of the school, of a pen, pencil and knife combined in a bone handle of fine workmanship. The presentation was made by Master Wm. Kiel, and responded to by Mr. Porter. Another token of respect and esteem was given by the girls of the same school to Mr. Porter of a beautiful pocket Bible, finished in the best style, enclosing a list of the names of the fair givers, and also, a short and touching verse, written on one of the blank leaves and dedicated to the teacher. It was presented to Mr. Porter by Miss Annie Hammond, in behalf of the young ladies.

We feel gratified, indeed, in noting these signs of success which have followed our friend and classmate to his new field of labor. Always ardent, and enthusiastic in his profession, he has put life into the subject of education wherever people have been fortunate enough to secure his services.

Shaler Township Teachers' Institute

The teachers of Shaler township held their regular semi-monthly Institute, on the 18th, in the Etna School House. The forenoon session was opened with devotional exercises, including a roll call to which each one responded by repeating a verse from the Bible; after which there was a class drill in reading by Miss McCleery, and some select reading. The afternoon session was opened by a roll call to which each teacher responded by stating a fact in science or history. Then followed a lesson on the county map by G. D. Hunt, in which it was shown how pupils may learn the names and situations of the townships of Allegheny county, and a class drill in mental arithmetic by Miss Marshall.

The next meeting will be held on the 1st of February at the same place. The exercises appointed for it are class drills in written arithmetic, grammar and geography, and an address on Professional Courtesy. Teachers and friends of Common Schools are invited to attend. The meetings have been profitable and interesting.

Home Insurance Company, New Haven, Connecticut.

We call attention to the annual statement of the Home Insurance Company, Jan. 1st, 1868, to be found in another column. During the past two years the fire insurance business has passed through an unparalleled run of fires, causing many companies to wind up, while others contracted their business and withdrew many of their agencies. The Home of New Haven was among the few that pushed their business straightforward, increasing their business and assets notwithstanding the large increase of losses. The success of the Home is to be attributed to the skill and energy manifested by the officers and the discretion and care of their agents. During the past year the assets of the company have been increased from $1,371,516 to $1,619,070, showing a net gain of $247,554 during the year.

Stolen Butter.

On Saturday afternoon last a keg containing about twenty-five pounds of butter was found in an alley in the rear of the Market House. The gentleman who found it placed it in his stable, near by, to await the appearance of the owner, but no owner came. On Saturday night the lock of the stable was broken off, it is supposed by the thief in search of the butter, but he failed to find it. Yesterday the keg was placed in possession of officer Peter Dressler, Market Constable, who took it to the Mayor's Office where it was recognized by E. H. Bennett, grocer in the Diamond, from whom it had been stolen.

Second Ward Nomination.—The primary election of the Republicans of the Second Ward, to select a candidate for the office of Common Council representative, made vacant by the resignation of Controller Steel, was held on Saturday afternoon at the Public School House. Acting on the advice of many friends, D. W. C. Carroll, one of the prominent candidates for nomination, withdrew his name when the organization was effected, and announced his determination to run for the office as an independent candidate. The voting stood as follows: Thomas Bailey, 84; T. P. Houston, 77. Mr. Bailey is therefore the nominee of the primary meeting. The election will be held to-day. We believe that there will be no Democratic candidate in the field, so that the contest will rest between Messrs. Carroll and Bailey.

Gymnastic Exhibition.—The complimentary benefit tendered the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association by the German Turner Association will take place on Wednesday evening of this week, at Turner's Hall, on Sixth street. The arrangements for the exhibition contemplate an interesting exhibition of gymnastic feats by the German Turners and the members of the Gymnastic Association. It will be an entertaining performance, and should draw a large crowd of spectators.

Repented.—The wayward girl who quit the abode of her parents for shelter under the roof of the notorious Mrs. Brawdy, a notice of which we recently made, has repented, and given up the life of shame which she had just entered. She is now with her parents.

Orphans' Fair Drawing.—On our second page to-day will be found a complete list of the drawings of the Orphans' Fair, which closed on Saturday night. It is thought that the net proceeds will exceed fifteen thousand dollars.

The old-fashioned "to lets" are going up in great numbers in all parts of the city. There will be but little difficulty experienced in obtaining houses by the renting community.

Fire on Penn Street—Supposed Incendiarism.

At about two o'clock on Sunday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 21, Allegheny Engine House, Irwin street, near Penn. It was caused by the burning of a cask of whisky in the wholesale liquor store of Trauerman, Arnhold & Co., Penn street, near Irwin. The flames made rapid headway, but owing to the prompt arrival of the fire department were subdued before any very great damage was done the building. The loss will amount to about $1600, which is fully covered by insurance. How the fire originated is a matter of much mystery, as there was no fire about the building for hours before the discovery of the flames. It seems from the appearance of things that a fire had been kindled between two casks of liquor, and burning through the staves got at the whisky, which increased its fury. The matter will be thoroughly investigated.

It again becomes our pleasant duty to chronicle the excellence of Pittsburgh manufactures. Among the premiums awarded at the Mechanical and Agricultural State Fair of Louisiana, at New Orleans, one of our new firms, Messrs. Harper, Gutman & Company, have distanced all competitors in the wagon line, having taken no less than eight medals, premiums and diplomas. Among others, one for their Patent Excelsior Hub Borers. This machine, by the way, is never sent to any exhibition without carrying off the palm. This firm has succeeded the old and widely known one of F. Aeschelmann, and has extended the reputation which he built up for turning out nothing but first class work. Their works on Beaver Avenue, Sixth ward, Allegheny, would well repay a visit from any one desiring a good article in their line.

Arrival of Prisoners.—On Saturday four prisoners arrived at the Western Pennsylvania in charge of Sheriff Howe, of Clearfield county. The prisoners are Thomas Gordon, Frank Little and S. Bradly, who were convicted on a charge of maiming, by cutting with a knife in a most horrible and fiendish manner, a horse and two mules, and D. H. Paulhamus, who was convicted on a charge of perjury.

A Religious Item.—At a meeting of the Trustees of the Plymouth Congregational Church, held last week, an application was presented from their late pastor, Rev. Henry D. Moore, asking a letter of dismissal and recommendation. It failed, however, to be granted. Mr. Moore is at present pastor of the Vine Street Congregational Church, Cincinnati, where he is meeting with a goodly reward for his arduous duties.

Saturday morning at three o'clock detective Smith, of Philadelphia, left for that city with John Sargent, the young man charged with a series of heavy forgeries. Sargent, during his stay in the lock-up, made a full confession. He stated that Steiner, his accomplice, forged the checks, while he presented them at the bank. Steiner belongs to a weathy family in Philadelphia. He has not yet been arrested.

Larceny.—A young man giving his name as James Stevenson, was arrested at Evans' Notion store, on Fifth street, on Saturday night, in the act of pocketing a bottle of cologne. He was searched, when two more bottles and a pair of suspenders were found in his pocket, having been stolen from the counter. He was lodged in the tombs for a hearing on a charge of larceny.

Union League.—A special meeting of the former members of the Union League will be held to-night, on the second floor of Mozart Hall building, Seventh street, near Grant. Important matters will come before the meeting and it is hoped that there will be full attendance, as a general invitation is extended to all members in this neighborhood.

Look Out for Him.—Some time during Friday night a large black horse was stolen from Mr. McKenzie, of Salineville, Ohio. The thief was traced in the direction of this city, and it is supposed that he is somewhere in this vicinity. Information of the robbery, and a description of the animal stolen has been left at the Mayor's office.

Lost an Eye.—A boy named Ober, residing on Troy Hill, was engaged in whittling a stick on Saturday, when his knife slipped and struck him in the right eye, destroying the sight entirely.

The United States Court commences its session to-day. There are on the list twenty-one civil cases, twelve issues in bankruptcy, and a number of criminal cases.

Operations have been commenced on the unpaved portion of Second street, in the Eighth ward, with a view to paving it early in the coming summer.

Obituary—Mr. John Donavan, an old and highly respected citizen of the Third ward, died on Saturday.

The City Councils will meet this afternoon at their chambers in the City Building.

The Monongahela river was running out light ice on Saturday and yesterday

Hall thieves are again operating in some sections of the city.

—The Ebensburg Alleghanian says: Our old friend and subscriber, Emericus Bender, Esq., of Carroll township, has sent us the following brief history of his life: "I came to this country with my parents, from Germany, in the year 1798. We took passage at Hamburg, and arrived in Philadelphia in November. I was bound out to Col. Caleb Davis, No. 4 South Third street, who sent me to school. The following year, 1799, just before Christmas, the schoolmaster said there would be no school next day, for General George Washington would be buried that day. I was at George Washington's funeral—and I suppose there is no other man in this county who can say as much. I was bound out when I was fourteen years old, to serve six years. After my term of service had expired, I came to Loretto, Cambria county, on the 14th day of April, 1805. My father had gone there three years before. In 1807, Rev. Demetrius A. Gallitzin got authority from Henry Drinker and Jacob Downing, who owned eight tracts of land near Carrolltown, for three settlers to make choice of one hundred acres each of that land, at one dollar per acre. Thomas Byrne got the first choice; I got the second, and Conrad Luther got the third. My two neighbors have been dead from from forty to fifty years, so I am the only living one who settled here when the country was a wilderness. I am eighty-three years old. I was a juryman at the first Court held in this county. I have been County Auditor, and in 1827 was elected County Commissioner. In that year Paul Benshoof, David Todd and myself, Commissioners, contracted with Arnold Downing to build the present Court House."

—Only a few years ago, says the Harrisburg State Guard, by the way a very live and readable journal, it was supposed that lead pencils could be manufactured nowhere but in England. Time and facts have proven the groundlessness of this claim. We now manufacture as good a pencil for all the uses of fine sketching and drawing as can be made anywhere in the world, and what is still more gratifying, the plumbago out of which the lead is produced for the American pencil, is found in Pennsylvania, near Easton. Plumbago is found in other parts of this country, but the Easton article is the most superior and is regarded by the manufacturers of pencils as equal, if not a better quality than that found abroad. The richness of our great old Commonwealth is thus exhibited in an article which we were once taught could not be manufactured in the new world. Millions of dollars have been expended in the production and purchase of pencils, of which the people of the United States have heretofore paid a large share as tribute money to the foreign manufacturer. Hereafter we will keep this money at home, and in this peculiar time of business we expect to see Pennsylvania take a prominent position not only as the producer of the raw material, but in the manufacturer of the lead pencil.

—A few days ago General James Longstreet called at the residence of General Hancock, in New Orleans, and sent in his card. General Hancock was then engaged with some friends, ladies and gentlemen. He immediately left them to receive his old army friend, more recently his foe, but now again his friend, and, after a warm greeting, insisted upon conducting General Longstreet into the parlor and introducing him to the company there assembled. The style of introduction was peculiar. "Ladies and gentlemen," said General Hancock, "allow me to introduce to you a gallant gentleman, to whom I am indebted for an ungraceful limp, and whom I had the misfortune to wing in the same combat." Although the company was composed exclusively of ladies and gentlemen whose sympathies were on the Union side in the late war, the incident excited a profound and pleasurable sensation.

What People Like.

In this age of life people like to be waited on, and why should they not? when they pay for it. In other cities it is the custom to deliver kindling wood to the citizens, and we do not know why Pittsburgh and Allegheny would not fancy the idea, when they can have it delivered free of charge, for twenty-five (25) cents per barrel, by leaving their orders at the Iron City Match Works, corner of Seventh and Grant streets. This wood is cut suitable for stoves, grates and oven-wood, being perfectly dry.

MONDAY, JAN. 27, 1868.

J. M. COOPER, of the Chambersburg Valley Spirit, formerly editor of the Intelligencer, of Lancaster, is a candidate for Surveyor General before the Fourth of March Democratic State Convention.

A HARRISBURG correspondent of the Philadelphia Sunday Dispatch says the leading spirits in the House, on the Republican side, are Mr. Thorn, of Philadelphia, Mr. Herr, of Dauphin, and Mr. Hickman, of Chester.

THE Republicans of Susquehanna county have elected W. J. Turrell and W. H. Jessup delegates to the State Convention, and passed resolutions in favor of General Grant for President, and Galusha A. Grow for Vice President.

MR. D. L. SMITH, one of the members of the Legislature for this county, has been shut up in his room at Harrisburg, by sickness, for two weeks past. We are glad to learn that his health is now amending, and that he will resume his public duties in a few days.

IT IS PROPER that specific mention should be made of the fact that Speaker Davis fulfilled his pledge so to constitute the House Committee on Railroads as to secure the prompt reporting of the Free Railroad bill and the bill to restore the charter of the Connellsville Railroad Company.

THE Conservative Republican members of the House of Representatives at Washington are now going to greater extremes than the Radicals ever suggested. A little of the energy evinced at this late day would have accomplished much last spring; some of it does not promise to be beneficial as affairs stand.

THE Republicans of Northampton county have declared for Grant and Curtin, and designated Mr. Wm. H. Armstrong as one of the delegates from the Eleventh District to the National Convention. Mr. H. D. Maxwell is delegate to the State Convention.

Huntingdon county has also declared for Grant and Curtin.

THE CONVENTIONS.

The Republican State Convention will be held at Philadelphia, March 11th; the Republican National Convention at Chicago, May 20th.

By the terms of the call of the State Convention, its duties are restricted to nominating candidates for Auditor and Surveyor Generals and Presidential Electors and the selection of four delegates at large to the National Convention. The other delegates will be appointed by the respective districts.

Two methods for selecting district delegates have been used. Sometimes the delegates to the State Convention, of the proper year, have assumed the function of conferees for this purpose, and chosen the delegates for their respective districts. At other times the selections have been made by district conventions or conferences. This latter method has many advantages to recommend it. We believe it has steadily had the preference in this county.

It is highly desirable the delegates to both National and State Conventions should be chosen from among the very best materials; for the duties that will devolve upon them are of unusual gravity.

ANOTHER SOLOMON.

A writer in the January number of the Galaxy is confident he is endowed, far above ordinary measure, with the spirit of political wisdom, and that if the Republican party would only surrender itself implicitly to his guidance and direction, he could so conduct it as to perpetuate its power and heal the griefs alike of the government and the people. Just now the country is filled with these highly inspired teachers; but, unfortunately for them, they are brought into discredit by reason of the fact that neither two hold the same language, and whenever a score or more of them are brought together they renew in actual life the mythological legend of the confusion of tongues at the tower of Babel.

This writer has an infallible prescription for the Reconstruction of the Union. We have looked at it first from one side, and then from another, but can find no originality in it. Let us see if the reader can detect in it what we fail to discover. Here it is:

"(a) Universal amnesty. (b) Equal rights of the white and black races before the law. (c) Impartial, not universal, suffrage. (d) An educational qualification for voting, such as the ability to read and write and solve a problem by the Rule of Three to the satisfaction of an impartial tribunal appointed by the General Government. (e) A provision to be inserted in every new State Constitution for the compulsory education of the whites and blacks in the Southern States."

We have said there is no novelty in these suggestions. We have not intimated that there is no merit in them. Any scheme that the bulk of the people will concur in, will settle the whole matter of Reconstruction. The core of all the difficulty there has ever been about Reconstruction consisted in getting men enough to agree upon one plan.

This plan is sensible in one respect, at least. It does not propose to make a settlement by leaving from four to five millions of the population altogether out of the account. It implies that so large an element in any country cannot be ignored, without making their power felt some day in a most uncomfortable manner, and that the safe course is to do justice, not tardily, when crowded into a tight place, but spontaneously from a love of it.

Another excellence is found here. The suggestion of making all men equal before the laws, does not appear to be used deceitfully. This phrase has become so interwoven in all definite and even popular conceptions of Liberty and Democracy that few men have hardihood enough publicly to dispute its soundness. There are, however, not a few who mouth it, from prudential considerations, who, at the bottom, do not believe in it. In application, they always try to turn the edge of it by an adroit qualification or denial. Of all the Democrats not one in ten thousand is in any other category. Having, as PAUL expressed it, "all the lewd fellows of the baser sort" on their side,—who clamor for rights for themselves while denying the same rights to others, they lose nothing by this game—nay, they gain by it—for whoever panders to passion and prejudice will not go without followers.

When the Republican Representatives in Congress first undertook to deal with the question of Reconstruction they proceeded on the basis of excluding the blacks from the right of voting. If the President and his Democratic and Conservative supporters had consented to that first plan, Reconstruction would today be an accomplished fact, with all the political rights of the blacks denied. The President and those who now cooperate with him, refused to accept that arrangement, and now the time has come when they seek for it but cannot get it.

So, too, the Republicans made a tender of Impartial Suffrage, on such educational or other basis as should be deemed on the whole most suitable. The Democratic leaders, reposing all their hopes on masses of ignorant men at the North as well as at the South, would not accept the proposition. Take out of their lists of voters the white men who cannot read, and they would stand as fair a chance of being struck by lightning as of carrying most of the loyal States during the next fifty years. After the present excitement shall settle down, their prospects in the Southern States would be little if any brighter. Let it ic objection to letting the blacks vote is not that they are uneducated, but that be understood, then, that the Democrats they want a monopoly of the ignorant voters, and stand no chance at all of getting the blacks to go with them.

Of the two sorts of ignorance, designating according to color, which ignorance is most to be reprobated? Private and public schools are open to the whites, and no obstacle has existed to their acquiring as much education as they pleased. With the blacks, the case has been very different. Until the Act of Emancipation, in each of the Slave States, it was a crime, punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, to teach a black to read the Constitution or the Lord's Prayer. A hundred years hence this will have an awkward look in history, surpassing in ugliness the accounts of Massachusetts witchcraft.

Most Republicans would gladly have commuted for suffrage on a basis of education—but the Democrats would not.

However the great question of suffrage may ultimately be adjusted, either in particular States or throughout the nation, Reconstruction will be concluded inside of six months, and upon the basis laid down by Congress. The Houses show no disposition to recede in any essential particular, and the respective States are making commendable haste to fall into line in the only way they can. When once in again, they can alter their constitutional stipulations as to suffrage, the same as the other States now can; and it seems probable that by this method, if not by progress of opinion, the conflict now apparent will be closed.

THE Chicago Republican, in dealing with ideas, uniformly manifests precision and force; in treating of public men it blunders unaccountably. Take an illustration of its defect from an article on the bill to regulate proceedings in the Supreme Court:

"At first sight, the measure looks like an unwarranted encroachment, by the legislative department of the Government, upon the powers and functions of a co-ordinate branch; but as it is sustained not only by the unanimous vote of the Republican members of the House, among whom are some of the ablest and best constitutional lawyers of the country, but by the ablest jurist of the democratic side—Judge Williams, late of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court—the rule must have warrant in precedent or constitution. Still, we would much rather it would have been adopted when no measure of importance was pending to be affected by the new order."

Now, the fact is that no man named WILLIAMS ever occupied a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and the only man of that name that ever was in Congress from this State is about as far from being a Democrat as can well be.

That Mr. THOMAS WILLIAMS is an able jurist—by large odds the ablest in the present House—is conceded; and we do not know that his legal opinions are entitled to any less weight because he is a Republican and not a Democrat.

—Nor can we conceive that an alteration of any law is objectionable because intended to meet a particular case. Nearly all valuable law reforms have come in that way. An evil becoming apparent, a remedy is provided for it. It is difficult to see in what other way changes in laws can be suggested.

Collision of Vessels at Sea.

People unaccustomed to seafaring life are frequently surprised at hearing of collisions at sea, thinking it strange that, with apparently unlimited room, vessels do not always turn out for each other in time to avoid such accidents. Such persons are not probably aware that the highways and byways of the ocean are as well defined, and often as narrow, as those of the land; that a vessel is bound under ordinary circumstances to keep in her course, and finally, that the winds and waves have a very decided say in the matter. The various causes which lead directly to collisions, as well as their frequency, are given in a recent English official report, from which it appears that no less than 2,766 such accidents happened, during the last eight years, on the coast of Great Britain alone, and that 795 of them occurred in broad daylight. The number has shown a regular increase from year to year during this period; and it is important to notice the various causes that led to the loss of these 2,766 vessels. The average annual number of collisions in the eight years was 346. Of these, an annual average of 74 occurred through a bad look-out; through neglecting to show a proper light, 19; through neglect or ignorance of steering rules, 68; through error of pilot, 8; want of seamanship, 16; general want of caution, 25. It will be seen that no less than 205 out of the 346 happened from causes which, with proper care, might have been avoided. The average number of collisions from actual want of sea-room was only eight; from thick and foggy weather, 18; error in judgment, 24; and from parting cables, dragging anchors, breaking sheer and fouling, 40.

A very singular fact is that of the 145 collisions which happened in 1866, between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., 64 occurred when the weather was fine and clear, and only 30 when it was foggy. Of 227 collisions between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m., 102 occurred in clear, and only 57 in thick or foggy weather. Of the total number of collisions in 1866, 11 occurred between two steam vessels, both under way; 169 between two sailing vessels, both under way; 85 between two sailing vessels, one under way and one at anchor; 69 between a steam vessel and a sailing vessel, both under way; 11 between a steam vessel and a sailing vessel; 7 when a steam vessel was under way and a sailing vessel at anchor, and 4 when a sailing vessel was under way and a steam vessel at anchor; and 77 happened through vessels breaking from anchors or moorings.

An Interesting Relic of the Minnesota Indian Massacre.

[From the Dubuque Times.]

The people of the Northwest still have a vivid recollection of the Indian massacre in Minnesota, when Inkpadutah, with his fiends of warriors, decked out in paint and feathers, went from settlement to settlement, spreading terror and desolation in their path, and murdering, without remorse, green old age and helpless infancy. Many of the victims of that tragedy are now sleeping in unknown but honored graves, while many children deprived of their natural protectors are still to be found in the country, sad witnesses of the catastrophe, which at once deprived them of parents, home, and all the attractions dear to childhood.

The truth of this was well illustrated on the 16th inst. On the cars coming eastward from Manchester to this point, was a gentleman, now residing at Lyons, who was driven out of Minnesota at the time of the Indian massacre, five or six years ago. He had with him a little girl, whom he found in a deserted cabin, she being at that time only two weeks old. She is now a lovable little creature, and while on the train sang some beautiful Sunday School hymns with touching pathos. When the history of the child was learned, much interest was manifested, and the little one was the recipient of several small favors from the passengers. Her preserver is of the opinion that the child was left in the cabin by the red skins to trap some one, for hardly had he entered the house before the savages made their appearance, and he had the hardest foot-race on record, with the little one in his arms, to make his escape. Who the parents of the child were he has never been able to ascertain, and there is no doubt but that they were murdered by the savages.

The Poison Fly of Mexico.

In a recent number of the Ledger an account was given of a certain fly in Costa Rica and South America which lay its eggs in the nostrils of human kind while asleep, the larvæ from which were therein introduced into the nasal passages, and gave rise to the most intolerable agony, and frequently death. By a late article in a medical journal, we learn that the same, or a closely allied species of lucilia was the source of serious trouble to the foreign troops in Mexico during the French occupation, infesting the low, warm valleys throughout the entire country. The symptoms are itching of the nose, followed by headache and swelling of the nose, with bleeding at the nostrils, and ulceration, accompanied by discharge of larvæ. Erysipelas of the face and head is frequent, sometimes succeeded by meningitis. Injection of chloroform, although very painful, were used to most advantage. Cevadilla kills the larvæ, and expels them by sneezing, but is apt to produce hemorrhage.

—The Meadville Republican urges the authorities of that city to prohibit the sale of the Police Gazette and like papers within their city limits.

CHILI.

Improvements at Valparaiso—Colony in the Straits of Magellan.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

VALPARAISO, December, 17, 1867

GAZETTE:—The extraordinary sessions of Congress in which the budget, the accounts, and several important projects have been approved, have, owing to the advanced stage of the summer, come to an end. Among these, that which authorizes the President of the Republic to employ the sum of eight thousand dollars in the construction of new bonded stores and a spacious wharf, deserve more particular attention. Both things are of absolute necessity at Valparaiso. In consequence of the extraordinary increase in the importation of merchandise, the Revenue has been obliged to rent warehouses of private individuals, and in this seventy-five thousand dollars a year is spent. As to the wharf, we will only say that it is a disgrace tat a place of the importance of Valparaiso should not present any kind of facilities for the discharge of vessels. Really it was time to think seriously of a reform of our barbarous system of conveyance, and substitute steam as much as possible for warehouse force. The construction of a good wharf is a thing which will go hand in hand with the prolongation of the Central railway, which is already far advanced. The railway will run along all that part of the city by the sea-side, where the stores and warehouses of the merchants are situated. The locomotive will thus knock at the door of every one's warehouse to take up the goods that have to be sent to the capital, or the departments traversed by railroads. As the Government has applied itself with fervor to these undertakings, there was not wanting a deputy to ask if there was any certainity that the Spaniards would not return to the scene of their glory. The Ministers answered that they were not induced to take the present course by any absolute certainty that the Spaniards would not come back, but consider that the confidence inspired by the defensive works of Valparaiso was sufficient to exculpate from the charge of temerity in undertaking the construction alluded to.

We were fearful at first that this official declaration regarding the war would have an injurious influence upon our commerce, but at the same time intelligence arrived from unimpeachable authority in Europe assuring us that the continuation of the war is about the last thing the Spanish Government thinks of. The important decree of the second of the present month, regarding the colony in the Straits of Magellan, causes expectations of progress in that locality to be conceived, particularly when Senor Oscar Vial, Captain in the Chilian Navy, has been appointed Governor of the settlement. The colony in the Straits of Magellan has been up to the present moment purely a military post. Its population is confined to the soldiers of the garrison, the Governor and one or two tradesmen in furs. The number of inhabitants attributed to it by the last census is one hundred and ninety-five. As to the indigenous population, calculated at three thousand eight hundred souls, the following is the account given of it in the above mentioned work: The territory of Magellanos, notwithstanding its immense extent, is very scantily populated. Besides the colony situated at Punta Arenas, the inhabitants of which amount to one hundred and ninety-five, there is an indigenous population, which can be classified in three distinct tribes, that which inhabits East Patagonia, that of West Patagonia, and that of the country north of the Straits.

The great disadvantage for the colonists of Magellanos is their complete isolation from the rest of the Republic. For their scanty commerce the colony had at their disposal no other facilities than the transports with provisions sent from time to time by the Government—or the vessels which bad weather or other reasons forced to put in at Punta Arenas. The approaching establishment of the line of steamers through the Straits has raised fresh hopes for the colony. These steamers will touch at Punta Arenas, and the colony will have periodical communication with Valparaiso and the other part of the Republic. The decree for the colonization makes important concessions to the colonists, such as a pension of five dollars a month for each family, ships rations for the individuals composing it, best of ground, school and medicines gratis, and exemption from duty for the effects and utensils of the colony. To these privileges have to be added those held out by the following articles of the law of November 18, 1865.

Fourthly, Within the limits of each of the colonies that shall be established between the Rio Grande and Cape Horn, and within the limits of those which may be established in the waste lands north of the river Copiasso, the dues of tithes, patents, law tax, the tax on transfer of property shall not be paid for the term of twenty years reckoned from the day of foundation.

Fifthly, All the colonists from the fact of residing in such colonies are to be considered as Chilian citizens, and shall declare that to be the case before the authority named by the Government, at the time of taking possession of the ground allowed to them.

The Government proposes also to encourage the colonization of the Auranian frontier, in right of the success of the operations intrusted to Colonel Saavedra. This officer has written to the Government to say that the occupation of the Aurania can be considered an accomplished fact. But to consolidate the military occupation it is necessary to provide the acquired ground with a population, because the Republic would gain nothing by the establishment of a permanent garrison.

We must also mention among the acts of the Government which have transpired during this fortnight, the letting of the famous Island of Juan Fernandez. The tenant proposes to take advantage of the fishery and several productions of an unimportant character of the Island. He has entered into an arrangement to establish a little colony. At present offers are invited to rent the other island not far distant called Masafuera.

The most cheering intelligence has reached us as to the prospects of the forthcoming harvest in the Southern provinces, which in addition to the expectations of a great demand in the European markets, maintains the hopes of the commercial interest, rather depressed at present by an amount of importation far in excess of the requirements of our consumption.

Dr. Sargent's Diuretic Pills

Are very properly called

"BACK-ACHE PILLS,"

Because whenever the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., are affected, the pain is always felt in the small of the back, sometimes extending along the groin, which symptoms are often mistaken for Rheumatism, and the ordinary remedies for Rheumatic affections such as Plasters, Liniments, &c., are of no avail.

DR. SARGENT'S BACK-ACHE PILLS

Strike at the root of such diseases, by removing the inflammation and stimulating the organs to a healthy action. The patient is relieved from all weakness and pain. Hundreds who have suffered from these troubles can testify to the wonderful efficacy of these pills.

Sold by all Druggists.

Sugar coated, price 50 cents per box.

Debility and Emaciation

Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment. How necessary, then, for those suffering from these alarming symptoms to immediately resort to a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs. For, as soon as this desirable object has been accomplished, the health improves, and the patient resumes his usual personal appearance. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have attained a world-wide popularity in such cases, and have been proven the best and safest means of removing constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver, and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its cheering and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained the same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic. Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives, have been introduced and have perished one by one, while the popularity of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS continues to increase, and it is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters evinces its curative virtues in all cases of debility and diseases of the stomach. Certificates almost without number have been published, attesting its truly miraculous power in removing those painful and fearful diseases. [illegible] great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.

1786. PROSPECTUS. 1868

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capitol, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It gives as much reading matter as any paper sold at twelve dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

With the enlargement, every department has been strengthened. The high character of its editorial columns will be maintained, and all questions of public importance will be fearlessly discussed.

The news department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and in condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and maintain for the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

Ample space has been reserved for market reports, which can at all times be relied upon as correct, as the current quotations for manufactures, farm products, cattle, &c., &c., are daily gathered from actual sales, by faithful and efficient reporters.

The river news is collected with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced banker, who will render it quite an attractive and useful specialty to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and readable to members of all religious denominations.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their present ones to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

TERMS FOR THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

Single Subscriber	$1.50.
Clubs of Five	1.25.
Clubs of Ten	1.15.

—and one to the getter up the club.

For specimen copies of either Daily or Weekly, address the proprietors,

A HEART OF STONE.

BY JOHN HARRINGTON.

Whence comes my love? O heart, disclose!
It was from cheeks that shame the rose,
From lips that spoil the ruby's praise,
From eyes that mock the diamond's blaze;
Whence comes my woe? as freely own:
Ah, me! 'twas from a heart like stone.
The blushing cheek speaks modest mind,
The lips befitting words most kind,
The eye does tempt to loves desire,
And seems to say 'tis Cupid's fire;
Yet all so fair but speak my moan,
Sith naught doth say the heart of stone.
Why thus, my love, so kind bespeak
Sweet eye, sweet lip, sweet blushing cheek—
Yet not a heart to save my pain?
O Venus! take thy gifts again!
Make not so fair to cause our moan,
Or make a heart that's like our own.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT

CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, if relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what was to be free from the disease. I had to sit in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband Joseph Meyers, but I must confess, with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. Dr. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am today in vigorous health, and TOTALLY FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in awhile, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother.)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The cure of Mrs. Myers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as there is hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

A GREAT FAMILY CONVENIENCE.

A new and novel arrangement for having

HOT WATER BOILERS

attached to the back end of common cook stoves, so that the waste blaze which goes up the stovepipe heats all the water needed in an ordinary sized family, by passing the blaze directly through the boiler, which sits over the pipe hole of the stove. This new arrangement can be put on to any No. 7, 8 or 9 common Cooking Stove, of any manufacture. Any person buying a TRIUMPH, VICTORY, BLACK OAK BEAUTY or UNION STOVE, of almost any other Cook Stove made in the Union, can have Boilers attached to their Stoves, including the Attachment, the Boiler and Lids, and Bibb Cock, for the moderate cost of SEVEN DOLLARS, by applying to

District Court—Judge Hampton.

SATURDAY, Jan 25.—The Armstrong county ejectment cases went to the jury on Friday evening. The verdict will be rendered on Monday morning.

P. Y. Hite vs. Michael Buribank. Bill in equity. It was complained that in 1866 Hite leased to Buribank a tract of land in East Deer township, with the privilege of using coal from a pit in the premises for family purposes; that instead of mining the coal in a proper manner Buribank has been blasting the "ribs" of the pit, wasting the coal and rendering the entry insecure. A preliminary injunction was granted restraining respondent from doing further damage and from interfering with the coal in any other manner than to take out what is requisite for the use of his family.

Lodged.—The notorious Jim McGuiggan and Andy McGinty were lodged in the Western Penitentiary a day or two since, by the Sheriff of Crawford county. McGuiggan is said to have realized over $20,000 by bounty jumping during the war. He bears the brand of a deserter, and is altogether a remarkably hard case.

Real Estate Sale.—On Saturday our very enterprising friend, Captain Harry Smithson, of the firm of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, 55 and 57 Fifth street, sold by auction the residence of W. J. Gilmore, Esq., at Lawrenceville, for the sum of $9,700. Zack Wainwright, Esq., was the purchaser.

The streets and pavements are in miserable condition from accumulated ice and snow. So soon as the weather moderates sufficiently to permit work, the Street Commissioners will commence to improve things in this direction.

No tidings have yet been received of the whereabouts of the missing Liberty street merchant, Mr. Anthony Freyvogle. The suspicion grows stronger that he has been foully dealt with.

Charged With Theft.—Michael Flinnerty was arrested at his residence, in the Third ward, on a charge of stealing pig metal from a yard on Second street. He will have a hearing to-day.

The Undine performance in this city netted a handsome profit to the managers. The ballet troupe took their departure on Saturday night after the performance.

—Dr. Stone writes to the London Times that cooked potatoes are as efficacious against scurvy as raw ones; a fact not generally known, but ascertained beyond doubt by Dr. William Baly, late physician to the Milbank Penitentiary, where scurvy at one time was not uncommon. The disease wholly disappeared on the addition of a few pounds of potatoes to the weekly dietary.

—The people of the Pacific capital are congratulating themselves that the Pacific steamship line has rendered it unnecessary for them to ship coin and treasure to China and Japan by way of New York. The "Great Republic" carried $1,359,977, of which $750,314 were in silver, $315,519 in gold bars and coin, and only $293,943 in Mexican dollars. Of this $592,430 went to Japan. Our telegraphic dispatches bring these facts down to the beginning of the current year. They are not full, but show that the printed report was not too flattering. The important fact contained in them is, that the grain crop of 1867 was more valuable than the gold product. The export of the former capped $12,500,000, including wheat and flour, besides domestic consumption and the stock on hand. The treasure shipment was $40,500,000, and the merchandize $22,500,000. The wool clip exceeded $6,500,000. There is enough in these items to assure us that the full returns must be highly satisfactory, and that our Pacific commerce, agriculture and mining are destined to be even more important than they have heretofore been.

—Red tape has often been burlesqued, but we doubt if a more extreme case was ever recorded than the following, credited to the English War Department: "There is a tradition said to be historical, concerning a clerk in the War office who once wanted a peg whereon to hang his hat. To save the expense of a carpenter, he applied for a hammer and a nail with which to drive it in himself. Six months passed before he received any answer to his request, and he had long ago set up a peg of his own, when a special messenger from the Tower arrived in Pall Mall with a hammer sent to him at last through the medium of numberless requisitions and authorizations. At the same time he was informed that it was not the province of the Tower officials to supply nails, but that these would come to him from Woolwich, and after a few months' further waiting, they really did arrive—a pound of nails, brought by a great ambulance wagon, with its half dozen horses and its dozen attendants."

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, December 25, 1868.

In gold the transactions were rather light today, the advance of Thursday afternoon has brought out considerable amounts that were held at 140, but there is evidently too much gold on the market, and too little demand for it to warrant any material advance, besides the Washington clique have sold out the other day, the market stands on the usual fluctuations. In the scale of currency prices, the commercial community has accepted 140 as the standard for their transactions in foreign goods. Imports are beginning to increase in volume, and exchange is stiffening up, so unless we have an early resumption of inland navigation, gold will have to be shipped to cover drafts, or bonds have to decline here to enable remittances of that kind.

The stock market is steady, but has come to pause just now, and the cliques are gathering new strength to see whether they can carry the market higher and unload on the public. The season is very favorable for such manipulations, an abundance of cheap money, and a stagnation in business, will lead many a wise man to Wall street, that had better stay away. Mining shares are steady and rather firmer.

—We learn from Washington that the Senate finance committee has been considering Senator Sherman's bill for several days, and that the section authorizing a foreign loan has been stricken out, also the one imposing a tax for the benefit of the States. The provision allowing the Secretary of the Treasury to employ aid outside of his department to conduct the funding of the debt has also been done away with, and the Secretary directed to perform the work through those already employed by the Treasury.

—The New York Times, in noticing a rumor to the effect that the House Committee on Banking would probably report the bill to substitute greenbacks for National Bank currency, comments as follows:

Our own present conviction is that no such measure will become a law at the present session of Congress. And we doubt whether any measure of positive currency expansion will be entertained by the majority of the Senate unless more distinctly and imperatively demanded by the popular sentiment and business interests of the country than seems at present likely to be interposed. It may be that an amendment to the National Currency Act will find favor to the extent of relaxing the present limit of $300,000,000, so as to accommodate the Southern States, as they are successfully reconstructed, and some of the Western States that failed to secure a fair distribution of the present $300,000,000. Indeed, the opinion gains ground that the chief defect in the National Banking and Currency Act, as compared with the New York Free Banking System, upon which it was in other respects modeled, is its want of perfect freedom and flexibility in the limitation of circulation to a given arbitrary sum, without reference to the law of supply and demand, or the actual wants of the country, or the rule by which profitable banking (as formerly in the State of New York) should be governed. It may also turn out, should the revenues of the Treasury continue to fall short, as they have done for two months past, of its necessary expenditures, that Congress will create a new class of temporary obligations, the interest to be paid in currency; or else authorize the renewal of part of the Seven thirty per cents. or compound notes yet to mature; but this would not necessarily be currency expansion, although directed to the limitation of the gold bearing public debt to $2,000,000,000. Indeed, it is to be hoped that from the gradual improvement in trade, and with it the increase of the customs and internal revenues, and the economy of Congress, the necessity of any action at all, in this direction, will be avoided.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 25, 1868.

CRUDE—The crude market has been rather quiet and a little dull during the past two days, though for the entire week, there has been an improved volume of business, one party alone having bought eighteen thousand barrels for March and April, seller's option, at 7½c and 7⅝c. Spot oil has been moderately active with sales during the early part of the week at 7¼@7½c; yesterday and to-day, however, there were no buyers above 7c—to-day there was a sale of one thousand barrels at that figure, delivered on bulk cars. March and April seller's option is held at 8c, with buyers at 7½c, possibly 7⅝c might be obtained. All the year, buyer's option, is held at 12c, with buyers at 11@11½c. The arrivals during the week have been rather light, averaging about 2500 bbls per day, though the railroad company could doubtless increase to 3500 or 4000 if the wants of the trade required it.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil has been rather dull during the entire week, the sales, in the aggregate being light, and compared with last week, prices are a shade lower. January, or spot oil, has declined from 23 to 22⅝@22¾, and February, the first half, at least, has dropped half a cent. We have sales reported today of 500 bbls for the first half of February, seller's option, at 23c; 1000 for July, at 26c, and 1000 for August, at 27c—on Friday evening, but not before reported, 500 bbls, spot, at 18¼c, on board cars at works; 500 "call" for May, at 23¼c, and one dollar per bbl; 500 "cal." for June, at 23¼c, and one dollar per bbl; 1000 "call" for June, at 24c, and one dollar per bbl, and 1000 "call" for July at 24c, and one dollar per barrel. Free oil is being sold at 33@33½c.

BENZINE—There has been quite a spirited demand for Benzine during the past week, and with a limited supply, prices are tending upward; we can report a sale of 300 bbls, in bond, at 18½c, delivered in Philadelphia.

ARRIVALS—The following are the arrivals of oil by the Allegheny Valley Railroad:

Baltimore Cattle Market.

BALTIMORE, January 23.—Cattle—The offerings at the scales during the past week amounted to 1038 head, against 1019 last week. Prices to-day ranged as follows: Old cows and scalawags at $4@4.50; ordinary thin steers, oxen and cows, $4.50@5.50; fair to good stock cattle $5.50@6.25; fair quality beeves $6.75@7.75, and the very best beeves $8@9.25 per 100 lbs, the average price being about $6.50. The market closed tolerably active at about last week's prices.

Sheep—The receipts have been small during the past week, and the market for good sheep quite active at about former rates, viz: 4½@5½c for fair to good, and 5¾@6¾c per lb, gross, for good to extra.

Hogs—The arrivals have been large during the past week, and the market moderately active, but prices have declined 25c per 100 lbs on the rates of last week, ranging at the close today from $9.50@10.50 per 100 lbs, net, for fair to good fat hogs.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, January 25.—The Dry Goods market is quiet and firm for all staple Cotton fabrics, and the stock in first hands is much reduced as the mills are generally either stopped or are running only about half time. Yesterday, most of the mills at Pittsfield closed up. The closing of the mills has become a necessity, inasmuch as all kinds of fabrics have been selling the past year at unprofitable rates. Brown standard Sheetings of the best makes are firm at 15@15½c; fine, yard wide Sheetings bring 12½c, while such as Atlantic and Massachusetts B, Lonsdale Bleached, do, 16½c; Great Falls O, 16c; Merrimac prints, 12½@13c—the latter rate being below the market value.

Louisville Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, January 25.—Tobacco: sales of 55 hhds at full prices; lugs $5@6; common leaf to selections $7.50@19.00. Flour; $7.50@8.00 for superfine and $11.50 for fancy. Wheat $2.35@2.40. Corn 80@85c. Oats 66@68c. Lard, 12½@12¾c for new and 12¾c for old. Mess Pork; $20.25@21.00 for old and new. Bacon; shoulders 9¾c; clear sides 12¾c; bulk shoulders 8¼c. Cotton 15½@15¾c. Whisky nominal.

Philadelphia Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, January 25.—Flour firmer; extra family $10@11.50, Ohio do $11@12.25. Wheat comes in slowly; red $2.45@2.50; white $2.75@3.20. Corn quiet; mixed western $1.23@1.25. Oats dull at 73@76c. Provisions dull.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 25, 1868.

The past week has not been marked by any new features in commercial circles worthy of special notice. The general markets continue dull, though we still entertain hopes of a good spring trade, particularly for Pittsburgh manufactures, and as stocks of all kinds are unusually light, it is probable that many of our large manufacturing establishments, which have either been stopped or running half time, will soon go into full blast again.

GRAIN—Wheat is steady but unchanged; we continue to quote at $2.55 for Red, and $2.65 for White, and $2.35 for No. 1 Spring. Barley is in steady demand and in very limited supply; sales of small lots of Spring at $1.75@1.80, but a round lot of strictly prime would bring $1.85, and possibly $1.90. RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand last evening with six feet eight inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was soft and unsettled with a mixture of snow and rain falling at intervals; and there was but little ice running. The Monongahela, we presume, is open up to Brownsville, but of this we cannot speak with certainty; the Allegheny is unchanged.

There has been no arrivals or departures. The J. N. McCullough would arrive last night from Steubenville, and possibly the Glendale, from Wheeling.

The river is reported clear between here and Wheeling, and we have, no doubt, but what the gorge at Bellair has been forced to move before this.

The J. N. McCullough, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, will leave for Parkersburg to-day at noon without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind and act accordingly. The McCullough is a bran new side-wheeler, has superior accommodations for passengers, and is in charge of experienced and courteous officers.

The Kate Robinson is up for Cincinnati and Louisville; Camelia, for Nashville; Messenger, for St. Louis, and the Leonidas, for New Orleans.

The towboat Mary Ann, en route from Louisville to Pittsburgh, with a tow of empty barges, struck a snag at Sliding Hill (near Pomeroy) on Friday last, and sunk. At last accounts, she was lying in about thirty inches of water aft; while forward, the water was almost up to her forecastle. The worst feature is the fact that the river was rising, and she may be cut to pieces by floating ice. The Mary Ann is owned by Messrs. Horner, Wood & Co., of this city, and they had no insurance on her: she is only about a year old.

The rise in the Tennessee river has greatly interfered with the travel on the Memphis and Charleston railroad. On Saturday the water was two feet over the bridge at Decatur.

The time made by the Merry barges from Dubuque to New Orleans, was forty-seven days.

A new opening to the Atlantic ocean has been proposed to the Dubuque Board of Trade, down the Mississippi river to the Ohio, thence up that stream to the mouth of the Kanawha, and thence up that stream and by canal to Hampton Roads, and thence to the ocean.

The Henry Ames left New Orleans on Wednesday for Memphis, with a good trip. Her repairs cost $3,000 only, instead of $10,000, as was at first reported. The Insurance Inspectors have pronounced the Ames as ranking A No. 1 in her carrying capacity, and capable of transporting as much cotton as can be stored on her.

The Vicksburg Times, of the 17th, reports the two opposition boats, Allen and Lee, in port. It remarks "the competion between the rival packets, R. E. Lee and Governor Allen, was exciting to an eminent degree. The commanders and agents of both boats canvassed the business portion of the city very thoroughly in search of consignments. At the time we left the levee, the Governor Allen could not have had more than 400 bales, nor the Lee more than 800. Of these 800 bales on the Lee, 325 were received from the Sunflower packet Myrtle."

A late New Orleans exchange has the following: Recently a steamboat, owned by a young man who had invested in it every dollar he possessed, was seized when about to cast off her lines by an officer, as the license had been over due five days. The unfortunate young man was fined $500; the boat was sold to pay the fine, and the young man lost everything he possessed in the world. There is not a boat that comes to the wharf, no matter how regular may be her papers, but these vampires will find a bucket short somewhere on this boat, an axe on that one, a life preserver on an another, that the poor steamboatman will have to succumb to the rapacity of these vampires, if the press does not come to their assistance, and earnestly urge the proper authorities to restrain within proper bounds these vampires on the steamboat interests.

We clip the following from a late Vicksburg paper: Captain Ben. Johnson, of St. Louis, in the spring of 1862 sold to parties here the Leila for $12,000 in gold, and took passage on the Kentucky for St. Louis. The Vigilance Committee in vogue at that time, prohibited gold from being taken out of the city to go North, and learning of the Captain's gold, the committee took it from him and gave him drafts on New Orleans, which were never cashed. He now sues several prominent men of that committee for the amount with interest and damages, the total claim being $100,000. The case will no doubt be carried through several courts before it is decided.

A late Evansville paper has the following: River full of floating ice—freights scarce—rates low, and shippers contending for a further reduction, had little tendency to brighten the countenances of steamboatmen. As a matter of self-defense, the several packets in port made a reduction in wages. A step, however unpleasant, deemed imperatively necessary, and to which most of the employes readily agreed, wisely deeming employment at reduced wages preferable to idleness. If a change for the better does not come soon, the consequence will be disastrous to the steamboat interests, and hundreds of boats will be laid up, and thousands of men turned out of employment.

The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes as follows: The Great Republic had a good cargo on arrival and added all she wanted here. Sam Barr says she passed the Richmond fairly under way. It is but fair to add, however, that the Republic had 600 tons of freight on board, which is, in my opinion, her best running trim, while the Richmond was nearly light—probably her worst running trim, except fully laden. The Richmond arrived this morning at 2 o'clock, fully laden, and refused freight here. She and her rival awaited the arrival of the 4:20 a. m. train, and departed together.

Chris. Damon, a well known Louisville and New Orleans pilot, was dangerously stabbed in the neck on Wednesday night last, at Cairo, by a negro with whom he quarreled.

MATTERS AT THE SOUTH.—Our Memphis exchanges give a very gloomy account of things at the South. The Avalanche, of the 21st, says:

The St. Marys arrived on Sunday from White river. She passed down some six weeks ago, from Cincinnati, to ply in the Ouachita trade. That river being low, she tried her fortunes in the New Orleans and White river trade, but received no encouragement, as there was no freight in the river to come out. She is receiving for Louisville, and leaves to-day at 5 p. m. As steamboat business is played out in Southern waters, the St. Marys will return to the Upper Ohio and try her fortunes again in that trade.

The planters have no money with which to purchase supplies, stock, or cultivate their plantations. Radical rule has ruined and devastated the South, which will eventually bankrupt the West. Already the Western people are groaning under heavy debts, taxation, and the course of the rump Congress, which is daily adding to the downfall of the West.

River Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, January 25.—The weather was clear and pleasant. The river continues to fall slowly. The following vessels departed: The Indiana for New Orleans, Goldfinch for Cairo, and Alice for Cincinnati. In port: The Centralia. Captain Tom Berry of the Guidon fell through the hatch, breaking his collar bone and injuring him severely. A shooting affray took place this morning on Jefferson street between an ex-Alderman and a tax collector. Neither of them were hurt.

MEMPHIS, January 26.—Raining; very heavy fog on river; impossible for boats to run since four o'clock this afternoon. The Belle Lee is overdue since last night. The Swallow, for Louisville, passed to-day. The schooner Mary, from Madison, Wisconsin, for New Orleans, passed down last evening.

LOUISVILLE, January 25.—River rising, with six feet nine inches in the canal. Weather cloudy; thermometer 40.
